Mayor Seaman Turns Keys Of The City Over To The Visiting Elks.

THE TOWN IS IN GAY ATTIRE.

* * *

The only reason the town was not alight from Bellevue to Fairview today was the fact that the decorations ran short at the retail shops. Folks got the spirit all right, but they failed to anticipate the demand for the purple and white, and the stock ran out.

Early in the day a procession of three automobiles left for DeLand Junction to meet a delegation of visiting Elks from Orlando who arrived there at 12 m. over the Atlantic Coast Line.

Delegations began to arrive from the North and South on the incoming trains, and the local Elks and their friends were active in meeting the visitors and doing the honors.

At 7:00 o'clock this evening two special Pullmans attached to the Over-the-Sea Limited will bring the St. Augustine delegation, and they are expected to give impetus and spirit to the scene, which, by that time, will be in good swing.

As the time draws nigh for his goat-ship to eat antics some of the candidates are breathing a little strained, and their heart-beats are perceptibly quickened, but if they live through this evening's ceremonies they'll feel might good next time.

Some of the local Elks who hear the cues, so to speak, of a previous initiation, are chuckling in anticipation of what some of their friends to be initiated tonight will see and hear and feel.

The Mayor of the city has turned over the keys to the visiting Elks, and the town is theirs.

"Hello, Bill!" welcome cards were in great demand this morning. They were given out with the compliments of the Daily News, and went to show windows everywhere.

Everything is now in readiness for the installation, even to the refreshment and the program, and the proceedings are expected to extend through the better part of the night.

A. E. Parsonage, Daytona Beach, Has Large Vote—One New Candidate.

The count of Thursday night makes things look as if there were no chance of stopping the Daytona High School, they adding their lead over the Halifax Rifles ten thousand more. But then anything may happen between now and March 15th.

Outside of Daytona Wilmans Opera House still has the lead although Seabreeze High School made a gain of over a thousand over them. The biggest surprise of the count was the showing made by the A. E. Parsonage, Daytona Beach, they running up to within a few hundred of Seabreeze High School.

In Daytona the Order of Eastern Star had a larger vote than usual.

THE ADDRESS AT THE ARMORY.

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane Delights and Instructs a Representative Audience.

INITIAL APPEARANCE OF BAND.

* * *

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, the noted Civic League lecturer, was given a cordial welcome last night at the Armory, a very large and representative audience occupying all available seats and a great many standing, thus giving emphatic evidence of their interest in a better, a bigger and more beautiful Daytona. It was because of their manifest interest in the city all love that the attendance was so large. One credit, of course, is given the brilliant speaker, for nothing less than a star attraction would have filled the great armory.

Mrs. Crane was fully equal to the demands of the occasion; she held the vast assemblage for nearly two hours through a very comprehensive discussion of the various phases and shades of questions affecting civic conditions. She held Daytona up for inspection, introspection and a retrospection, and by various comparisons showed what better things may be attained.

The ladies of the Palmetto Club must be immensely gratified at the large outpouring of Daytona's first citizens who braved the tantalizing elements and poured into the Armory in such numbers as to necessitate sending for chairs by the score.

A feature of the evening thoroughly enjoyed was the inspiring music by the new band. When it is considered that this band was organized only a month ago and that they have had but a few practice meetings their achievement of last night is remarkable. They did themselves proud, played like professionals and showed themselves capable of nearly any undertaking. While the applause was spontaneous and sincere it would have been much more generous had everybody known that the boys were so recently organized and had had so little practice.

It was a half hour late when the President of the Palmetto Club, Mrs. M. De Cantillon Stillman, introduced in a few chosen words the distinguished speaker. Mrs. Crane caught the eye and ear from the very first. Of a pleasing address, a clear, penetrating yet musical voice that reaches to the farthest ends of the hall, she launched upon her theme with little preliminary. She quoted yesterday's Daily News in which it was pointed out that Daytona could and would approach within a stone's throw of paradise if only the people would work toward that end.

The Daily News regrets its inability to review the address and point out at least its most striking features. The Daily News most heartily concurs in all that was said about beautifying the water front. As to the matter of public parks that has never appealed so strongly to the News since the whole city is so park like. The writer recalls the thrill of delight he experienced when he first saw Daytona and stood on Ridgewood avenue facing Volusia; then again looking out from the roof-garden of the Ridgewood Hotel the city was hid from view and it was as if looking out upon a vast forest.

The recommendations and suggestions were good, and it is sincerely hoped that they may strike home and that good may eventuate as a result of last night's lecture.

PALMETTO CLUB IN SESSION.

Mrs. Crane Enlivens The Occasion With An Address—Excellent Music Rendered.

SOCIAL HOUR, REFRESHMENTS.

One more Palmetto Club day has passed, and a very delightful one, too.

The afternoon was in charge of the Civic Department. They were fortunate in securing Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, Mich., to address the club, as well as lecture in the evening. Mrs. Crane is a delightful speaker, with a particularly pleasing voice that could be heard distinctly in all parts of the room. She spoke especially on the subject of beautifying the schools and school grounds, and of interesting the children in growing and caring for plants and flowers, also in helping to keep, not only the school yard, but the whole town neat and clean.

She spoke of the work other clubs were doing—how the clubs of Kalamazoo employed visiting nurses to look after the very poor, and the school children—and suggested the Palmetto Club make a start along the same line.

The music was in charge of Mrs. Robinson, and it is seldom one is privileged to listen to more beautiful singing. Mrs. Church sang, "An Old Riddle," and for an encore, "All For You." Mrs. Church and Mrs. Robinson charmed their audience with a duet, "Aurora," their encore being, "A Flight of Clouds."

Mrs. Church, Mrs. Robinson and Miss Hallett sang two trios, (a) "Row Us Smitly,"—Campana. (b) "Joys of Spring,"—Goehle. They were all so beautiful one could not make a choice. We would like to grow personal, and tell how beautiful each charming singer looked, and how they made us think of the flowers and birds of which they so sweetly sang, and how the trio, in their handsome gowns and picture hats, with odors blending and harmonizing so beautifully, made a tableau for the eye, while the ear was simply charmed with the sweet sound. Mrs. W. H. Mansfill, as usual, was a perfect accompanist.

Mrs. Graham Thompson announced there would be an important meeting of the Literary Department, on Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

A meeting of the Civic Department was called for 2 o'clock, Friday afternoon, to meet Mrs. Crane, and decide on a plan of work.

The afternoon closed with a social hour, during which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Jefferson and Mrs. Potter were the hostesses of the day.

ELKS ATTENTION! The Gazette-News Co. has a nice line of Elks Cards. Perhaps you want a few printed for the installation.

MME. STEINHEIL, HELD IN CELEBRATED PARIS MURDER.

Mme. MADE RUN TO ALLENHURST.

Thomas H. White, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Paine and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Koch made a trip to Allenhurst at the Haulover canal Tuesday by automobile in two and one-half hours' time. They found the road in fairly good condition, a condition you would infer from the fact of their having made the run in a comparatively short time.

The party enjoyed the trip down and succeeded in getting quantities of fish and ducks, so the trip was quite successful.

PALMETTO CLUB IN SESSION.

Mrs. Crane Enlivens The Occasion With An Address—Excellent Music Rendered.

SOCIAL HOUR, REFRESHMENTS.

One more Palmetto Club day has passed, and a very delightful one, too.

The afternoon was in charge of the Civic Department. They were fortunate in securing Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, Mich., to address the club, as well as lecture in the evening. Mrs Crane is a delightful speaker, with a particularly pleasing voice that could be heard distinctly in all parts of the room. She spoke specially on the subject of beautifying the schools and school grounds, and of interesting the children in growing and caring for plants and flowers, also in helping to keep, not only the school yard, but the whole town neat and clean.

She spoke of the work other clubs were doing—how the clubs of Kalamazoo employed visiting nurses to look after the very poor, and the school children—and suggested the Palmetto Club make a start along the same line.

The music was in charge of Mrs. Bohannon, and it is seldom one is privileged to listen to more beautiful singing. Mrs. Church sang, "An Old Riddle," and for an encore, "All For You." Mrs. Church and Mrs. Bohannon charmed their audience with a duet, "Carmena," their encore being, "A Flight of Clouds."

Mrs. Church, Mrs. Bohannon and Miss Hallett sang two trios, (a) "Row Us Swiftly,"—Campana. (b) "Joys of Spring,"—Geeble. They were all so beautiful one could not make a choice. We would like to grow personal, and tell how beautiful each charming singer looked, and how they made us think of the flowers and birds of which they so sweetly sang, and how the trio, in their handsome gowns and picture hats, with colors blending and harmonizing so beautifully, made a tableau for the eye, while the ear was simply charmed with the sweet sound. Mrs. W. H. Merrill, as usual, was a perfect accompanist.

Mrs. Graham Thompson announced there would be an important meeting of the Literary Department, on Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

A meeting of the Civic Department was called for 2 o'clock, Friday afternoon, to meet Mrs. Crane, and decide on a plan of work.

The afternoon closed with a social hour, during which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Jefferson and Mrs. Potter were the hostesses of the day.

MME. STEINHEIL, HELD IN CELEBRATED PARIS MURDER.

Mme. Steinhiel, who is held in Paris as accessory to the strangling of her husband, was compelled to undergo great mental torture recently when the crime as she had related it was rehearsed in the exact spot where it had occurred and with living actors. The woman had accused two men of killing her husband, and these were brought into the room masked and required to go through the strangling episode. The woman stood the scene stoically.

The Ideal Trunk.

The lady had looked at about twenty trunks without finding one to her satisfaction. At length the salesman suggested that if she could give him an idea of what she had in mind he might be able to suit her.

"I want," said the lady impressively, "a smaller trunk than this, but one that holds more."—St. Louis Republic.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of water-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gauzy food fabrics in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white-headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load be snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers helping with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surfaces. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue impales the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway at the touch with the fresh breezes that fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with silken draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you are distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely bully with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines running riot on the trees; note the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commends more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it becomes easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways interlacing, inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. The some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be in many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "quarter" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit both upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Smilling spring its earliest visit paid And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big shows is as free as the pure ozonian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a Shetlespony up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for rent for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy veranda's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines running riot in the trees; see the cryptogamons forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or eve callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variagated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Varietv is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

The Irritating Mississippi.

The Mississippi is the greatest irritant in the United States. Its fickleness, ceaseless power and taunting eddies bring oaths to the lips of the most respectable and law abiding residents along its lower course. The greatest sufferers of the river, the people who sing its praises with the most emphasis, are the ones who go off on a tangent of temper quickest when they find a new caving of river bank headed toward the newest and most expensive levee, built to protect great plantations, while just across the stream rise worthless bluffs and useless sand bars. Talk to a Mississippi river man—shanty boater, pilot, tarbrush plantation owner or city merchant—and he will brag about the river wonders. Its bigness charms him and makes him feel large and exalted. Bring him around to his own experiences with it, and suddenly a shade of resentment crosses his face as he recalls a shanty boat wrecked by a cyclone, a steamboat snagged, a raft torn up in some bend, a plantation endorsed and washed away or a season's trade spoiled by an overflow and overhaul.

"We love the river, damn it!" is a literal expression.—E. S. Speare in Atlantic.

A Quer Test.

The grocer sold to the applicant:

"Your references are good. Show me your style of weighing out five pounds of sugar. There's the scales."

The applicant wrestled his face in the amiable smile all salesmen wear and weighed out the sugar with dispatch and accuracy. He put on two little sugar at first; he added gently a full half pound before the scale balanced.

"You'll do," said the grocer. "You understand the scale trick. It is plain that you learned your trade in the thorough old school way."

"Yes, sir," the other answered, "I learned in the country, and almost my first lesson was that in weighing. You must add, add, add, till the beam tips, because all that adding pleases the customer—adds to him almost like a gift. But if, on the contrary, you subtract from the quantity on the scale the customer is affected in the opposite way—just seem to be holding him. He goes away convinced that you are a stingy cheat."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Beaten at His Own Game.

"A few days since," relates a solicitor, "as I was sitting with my friend D. in his office a man came in and said:

"'Mr. W., the livery stable keeper robbed me shamefully yesterday, and I want to be even with him.'

"'State your case,' said D.

"'I asked him how much he'd charge me for a horse to go to Richmond. He said half a sovereign. I took the horse, and when I came back he said he wanted another half sovereign for coming back—and made me pay it.'

"D. gave his client some legal advice, which he immediately acted upon, as follows: He went to the livery stable keeper and said: 'How much will you charge for a horse to Windsor?'

"The man replied, 'A sovereign.'

"Client accordingly went to Windsor, came back by rail and went to the livery stable keeper, saying:

"'Here is your money,' paying him a sovereign.

"'Where is my horse?' said W.

"'Bein' at Windsor,' answered the client, 'I lifted him out to go to Windsor.'"—Pearson's Weekly.

A Wheat Hospital.

"This wheat has been through the hospital," said a miller. "I can tell by the fine pellets on the grains. When that has been through the hospital for smut disease comes out better than well wheat."

The wheat grains, in truth, show so that one could almost see one's face in them.

"You can see your face in them, can't you?" said the miller. "And so would I. They've been through a high treatment—Grade. Smut is a nasty disease, a kind of mold, that changes the starch and gluten in wheat to a black powder. When you see flour full of black specks it is a sign that some of the wheat was smutted. The cure is first to wash the wheat thoroughly. Then you dry it. Then you smear it. Then you dry it again. Finally you brush it. Wheat hospitals—they are found in most grain elevators nowadays—have big machines for washing, drying, smearing and brushing the grain, and wheat on its very last legs comes out of those institutions as spruce and blooming as a football girl."—Buffalo Express.

An Astrologer's Letter.

An astrologer's letter to President Van Buren foreseeing the results of his election in 1840 is in the library of congress and perhaps gives a crude idea of some of the fallacies of our grandfathers. The following are some extracts: "In this horoscope the ascendant directed to the semisquare of Mars would be in operation about the middle of the fourth year, (October, 1776), and might cause sickness, * * * fire or hurt by wounds," etc. * * * "I have opened the horoscope for General Harrison, which accords with the chief events of his past life and which if right he will not fill the office of president during the next term even if elected. And the danger I apprehend to yourself is not from your public opponents, but from those on whom you repose confidence." Those who are superstitious may be inclined to credit this star guess with some measure of wisdom, for Harrison, although elected, died a month after his inauguration.—New York Post.

The Irritating Mississippi.

The Mississippi is the greatest irritant in the United States. Its fickleness, conscious power and taunting eddies bring oaths to the lips of the most respectable and law abiding residents along its lower course. The greatest admirers of the river, the people who sing its praises with the most emphasis, are the ones who go off on a tangent of temper quickest when they find a new caving of river bank headed toward the newest and most expensive levee, built to protect great plantations, while just across the stream rise worthless bluffs and useless sand bars. Talk to a Mississippi river man—shanty boater, pilot, raftsman, plantation owner or city merchant—and he will brag about the river wonders. Its bigness charms him and makes him feel large and elated. Bring him around to his own experiences with it, and suddenly a shade of resentment crosses his face as he recalls a shanty boat wrecked by a cyclone, a steamboat snagged, a raft torn up in some bend, a plantation undercut and washed away or a season's trade spoiled by an overflow and crevasse.

"We love the river, damn it!" is a literal expression.—R. S. Spears in Atlantic.

A Queer Test.

The grocer said to the applicant:

"Your references are good. Show me your style of weighing out five pounds of sugar. There's the scales."

The applicant wreathed his face in the amiable smile all salesmen wear and weighed out the sugar with dispatch and accuracy. He put on too little sugar at first; he added gently a full half pound before the scale balanced.

"You'll do," said the grocer. "You understand the scale trick. It is plain that you learned your trade in the thorough old school way."

"Yes, sir," the other answered. "I learned in the country, and almost my first lesson was that in weighing. You must add, add, add, till the beam tips, because all that adding pleases the customer—seems to him almost like a gift. But if, on the contrary, you substract from the quantity on the scale the customer is affected in the opposite way—you seem to be robbing him. He goes away convinced that you are a stingy cheat."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Beaten at His Own Game.

"A few days since," relates a solicitor, "as I was sitting with my friend D. in his office a man came in and said:

"'Mr. W., the livery stable keeper tricked me shamefully yesterday, and I want to be even with him.'

"'State your case,' said D.

"'I asked him how much he'd charge me for a horse to go to Richmond. He said half a sovereign. I took the horse, and when I came back he said he wanted another half sovereign for coming back and made me pay it.'

"D. gave his client some legal advice, which he immediately acted upon, as follows: He went to the livery stable keeper and said, 'How much will you charge for a horse to Windsor?'

"The man replied, 'A sovereign.'

"Client accordingly went to Windsor, came back by rail and went to the livery stable keeper, saying:

"'Here is your money,' paying him a sovereign.

"'Where is my horse?' said W.

"'He's at Windsor,' answered the client. 'I hired him only to go to Windsor.'"—Pearson's Weekly.

A Wheat Hospital.

"This wheat has been through the hospital," said a miller. "I can tell by the fine polish on the grains. Wheat that has been through the hospital for smut disease comes out better than well wheat."

The wheat grains, in truth, shone so that one could almost see one's face in them.

"You can see your face in them can't you?" said the miller. "And no wonder. They've been through drastic treatment—drastic. Smut is a nasty disease, a kind of mold, that changes the starch and gluten in wheat to a black powder. When you see flour full of black specks it is a sign that some of the wheat was smutted. The cure is first to wash the wheat thoroughly. Then you dry it. Then you scour it. Then you dry it again. Finally you brush it. Wheat hospitals—they are found in most grain elevators nowadays—have big machines for washing, drying, scouring and brushing the grain, and wheat on its very last legs comes out of those infirmaries as spruce and blooming as a football girl."—Buffalo Express.

An Astrologer's Letter.

An astrologer's letter to President Van Buren forecasting the results of his election in 1840 is in the library of congress and perhaps gives a crude idea of some of the fallacies of our grandfathers. The following are some extracts: "In this horoscope the ascendant directed to the semisquare of Mars would be in operation about the middle of the fourth year, October, 1785, and might cause sickness, * * * flux or hurt by wounds," etc. * * * "I have opened the horoscope for General Harrison, which accords with the chief events of his past life and which if right he will not fill the office of president during the next term even if elected. And the danger I apprehend to yourself is not from your public opponents, but from those on whom you repose confidence." Those who are superstitious may be inclined to credit this star gazer with some measure of wisdom, for Harrison, although elected, died a month after his inauguration.—New York Post.

Way to Marital Happiness.

"Marry a bright woman for success and a pretty one for happiness," advises a student of the problem. Also one who can cook for the benefit of the digestion might be advisable, but the pesky laws limit you to one.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Penholder.

He had lent her his stylographic pen, and she commenced to write a letter.

She—Oh, it writes beautifully. I declare I'm in love with this pen.

He—I'm in love with the holder.

She saw the point.

His Bluff Called.

"My dear, you grow prettier every day."

"And shabbier, John. Compliments are all very well, but I'd like to see a little ready cash occasionally."

Confidence is a plant of slow growth in an aged bosom.—Chatham.

No Leak.

"Suppose," hissed the villain, "suppose our plot should leak out?"

"That's all right," said his accomplice consolingly. "It can't. Don't you remember telling me five minutes ago that it had thickened?"

The wealth of a man is the number of things he loves and blesses, which he is loved and blessed by.—Carlyle.
